Oriel College intends to appoint a Stipendiary Lecturer in Theology (Hebrew Bible), commencing in October 2017. This lectureship is designed as a 3-year career development post for scholars who have completed their PhD/DPhil within the last three years.

During term-time, the Lecturer will be expected to teach Oriel undergraduates, or undergraduates at other colleges in return for payment to be remitted to Oriel, for up to 6 hours per week, under the direction of the Tutorial Fellow in Theology, Dr William Wood. Throughout the duration of the post, the lecturer will receive mentoring to foster professional growth in the areas of teaching, administration, and research.

The basic stipend will be according to the Senior Tutors’ Committee recommended scale for stipendiary lecturers with a teaching stint of six hours per week (between £13,026-£14,651 per annum, depending on experience). In addition, the Lecturer will be given an annual research allowance of £804 per annum. The Lecturer will also be a member of Oriel’s Senior Common Room, and will be entitled to free lunch and dinner at the Common Table throughout the year. Contributory membership of USS (the Universities Superannuation Scheme) is also offered.

The Lecturer will also be asked to set and mark collections (practice examinations) and to take part in undergraduate admissions.

Candidates should send an application letter outlining teaching experience as well as research interests, together with a CV, a writing sample (2,000–5,000 words), and the names of two referees to: SL in Hebrew Bible Appointment Committee, c/o Rachel Breward, Academic Registrar, Oriel College, OX1 4EW (academic.administrator@oriel.ox.ac.uk). Applicants should ask their referees to send references directly to this address before the closing date. Please also complete and return a Recruitment Monitoring Form.

The closing date for receipt of applications is 8th September 2017. Informal inquiries may be addressed to Dr William Wood (william.wood@oriel.ox.ac.uk).
