

ORIEL COLLEGE

Flag Flying Policy

The College now has two flag poles: the College flagpole over the main gate and the High Street flagpole.

A schedule of regular flag flying days for the College flagpole is attached. The House Flag should be flown on all of these occasions except as below.

The House Flag should also be flown from the High Street pole, on the occasions suggested on the attached schedule.

The College's policy on flying of flags is published on the College website and in the Student Handbook. The regular flag flying schedule appended to this policy will be displayed in the Porters' Lodge and if a flag is flown for a special reason, a notice will be displayed to explain its significance.

Flying Other Flags

No other flags should be flown without the authority of the Governing Body. At present two other flags are authorised: the Union Flag and the Rainbow Flag.

The Rainbow Flag will be flown to mark LGBTQ History Month in February, and on the 17th May, International Day against Homophobia, Transphobia and Biphobia.

The House Flag or another appropriate flag (of a design to be determined) should be flown for the whole month of May, as well as on Marian feast days (see full details under Oriel Flag Days).

However, if there is an occasion when the House Flag is to be flown on any of these days it will take precedence. If more than one flag-flying occasion occurs on the same date, both flagpoles may be used.

Flying Flags on Other Occasions

Authority to fly the House Flag to mark the death of a significant member of the College community should rest with the Provost who should normally consult the Treasurer and Vice-Provost. In the Provost's absence the Treasurer or Vice-Provost may decide.

Authority to fly the House Flag or Union Flag to mark other significant events affecting the College, the University or the nation or which are being widely acknowledged by other colleges should rest with the Provost who should consult as many members of the General Purposes Committee who are available before reflecting their majority and making a decision.

Proposals from students for flying other flags should be made in plenty of time to the Governing Body, via MCR/JCR President bringing this to the Joint Consultative Committee (which meets in 2nd and 6th week of each term).

Flying Flags from Student Rooms

The display of flags and/or political posters in public areas of College is not permitted. The display of flags or posters outside individual rooms, including windows, is also not permitted. This is to maintain tidiness, for health and safety, and to avoid conflict over the flying of flags.
